

HE NEVER SLEEPS IN A BED

THIS man has not slept in a bed for 16 years. He is the Venerable Lokanatha, only Buddhist missionary in America who arrived in London after sleeping in the main lounge or in the cinema during the voyage across in the Queen Mary. Here the 51-year-old Venerable Lokanatha, in yellow robes and carrying his feeding bowl walks bare-footed in a London street.
